Rendezvous
music lineup

This year's Old Wadena Rendezvous will feature two big folk music names on the list of entertainers taking the Rendezvous stage.

The Rendezvous and Chautauqua will be held August 12 and 13 at the Old Wadena County Park located about seven miles north of Staples on the Crow Wing River (13491 Old Wadena Circle, Staples, Mn. 56479).

John Gorka, a singer/songwriter of national and international renown, will be back to close out the Saturday, August 12, bill.

Also returning to Old Wadena will be the very entertaining duo of Curtiss and Loretta. They will do two sets, at 1:30 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

Both John Gorka and the husband/wife team of Curtiss Teague and Loretta Simonet are based in Minnesota and spend major portions of the year touring and performing their own folk songs and many traditional numbers as well.

Rolling Stone magazine years ago labeled John Gorka "the leading singer/songwriter of the New Folk Movement."

Gorka grew up in New Jersey and found himself attracted to folk music and song writing while studying history in college. His folk-inspired acoustic music and his baritone voice combined to catch the attention of other singers and recording studios.

In 1987 Minnesota based Red House Records released his first album "I Know," to popular acclaim. At least 11 very successful albums have followed over the years. Though he has been based in Minnesota for years, he still tours for major portions of each year. In the past he has toured across the United States and Europe.

Like Gorka, Curtiss and Loretta are returning to the Old Wadena stage with their music that comes straight

Building a new Old Wadena

By Mark Anderson
Managing Editor

Old Wadena County Park is open for visitors but is still a work in progress. Visitors to the Old Wadena Rendezvous on Aug. 12-13 will be experiencing the county park in the process of reconstruction after a tornado devastated the area in 2022. The new version of Old Wadena will be a big change for people who have visited in previous years.

Late on Memorial Day of 2022, a large tornado touched down near the Crow Wing River, rolled through the Old Wadena Campground, knocked down the new pavilion and flattened a large swath of pine forest beyond the parking area. The park was closed for the rest of 2022.

The Wadena County Parks department opened the park again in May of this year, one full year after the tornado hit.

Deana Malone, Parks Administrator for Wadena County, and Glenn Motzko, Parks Maintenance Supervisor, visited the park on July 20 to go over the progress and see what else needs to be done before the Rendezvous. They talked about the park as a place for history, camping, river recreation and the annual rendezvous site.

Malone said the biggest part of the cleanup was the thousands of downed trees and branches. The Minnesota DNR conducted a timber sale so that most of the trees were taken out of the forested area.

The Wadena County Highway Department also has devoted time to clearing logs and putting them into piles. The forested area still has a few piles of stumps and unburned logs. Malone said they plan to burn those in the winter when there is snow cover.

Motley Police business discussed at the Motley council meeting held July 10

By Dawn Timbs
Staples World reporter

Matters pertaining to the police department were at the forefront of the Motley City Council's regular meeting July 10, as well as the preceding work session.

In regard to the hiring of the full-time police officer (a position created when former officer Cody Holtz resigned), a motion was approved to officially set the hiring committee. It includes all three department heads (Bruce Brotherton, Public Works Director; Darci Odden, City Clerk/Treasurer; Police Chief Jason Borash), council member/police department liaison Pat O'Regan; and council member Steve Johnson.

At the regular meeting in June, Johnson had expressed interest in being on the hiring committee, but Chief Borash had requested that Johnson not be on it. However, at the regular meeting in July, it was noted that this matter had been resolved during the preceding work session.

During his monthly report, Police Chief Borash noted the department had a total of 49 calls during June, and two call-outs from home.

In addition, Chief Borash provided a breakdown of all call-outs, which had been a request of Mayor Schmidt.

The types of calls noted in the breakdown included arrests, welfare concerns, domestic assaults and shooting, mental health/suicidal subjects, death investigations, drug-related issues, vehicle thefts, weapons violations, providing traffic control at a large funeral, an abduction, and animal attacks.

In addition, the chief's documentation noted bringing the squad car in for repairs, providing guard watch at a hospital for an arrestee who ingested drugs on Officer Holtz's traffic stop, and conducting meetings and interviews. Chief Borash also noted that the breakdown does not include the numerous phone calls from dispatch or other officers received while off duty, during which time information was provided as needed.

In other matters the council:

- HEARD a summary of a closed meeting held regarding the performance review for Darci Odden, City Clerk/Treasurer. Odden received 53.6 points out of 56, determined to be highly satisfactory. Mayor Schmidt expressed appreciation for Odden's work, adding, "Job well done."
- HEARD the monthly report from Fire Chief Brad Olson. Olson noted that the fire department had a total of seven calls in June.
- APPROVED a motion to remove Nikki Bjerga as the administration liaison, and adding Mayor Mike Schmidt to this position. The change had been requested by City Clerk/Treasurer Darci Odden, who expressed frustration with Bjerga's lack of support. Odden suggested that the council switch their liaison positions occasionally, so that they learn about all of the city departments. Prior to the vote, Bjerga said that she's checked in with Odden in the past, but her offer to help was declined. Odden's response was "agree to disagree."
- APPROVED the Public Assembly and First Amendment Activity Policy.
- SCHEDULED a performance evaluation for Police

Chief Jason Borash to be held in a closed meeting following the council's regular meeting in August.

- APPROVED Public Works Supervisor Bruce Brotherton's request to purchase a locator/transmitter for the charging station. The total price is $12,055 and Brotherton noted that there is money in the water/wastewater budget to cover this.
- SET budget workshop meeting for Thursday, Aug. 3, at 6 p.m.
- DISCUSSED, during the council forum, the public forum policy, per request of council member Bjerga who wondered if limiting speaking time could help in conducting more orderly meetings. City Clerk/Treasurer Odden noted that public members (who have signed in) can be heard during the public forum, but no action can be taken on issued voiced. She also noted that the speaking time (for public input) was currently set at five minutes. After some discussion, the council approved adjusting the public speaking time (per person) from five minutes to three minutes.
- HEARD both praise and concerns from council member Brenda Borash during the council forum. Borash expressed appreciation to all who worked so hard at the recent community events - June Fest and the Motley Fair. She also had concerns about people speaking poorly of city employees and council members in public. She encouraged people to be supportive of each other.
- SET next regular council meeting for Monday, Aug. 14, 6:30 p.m., preceded by a regular work session at 5:30 p.m.

Lunch stop in Motley

Byron and Karyl Rice of Richfield, along with their dog, Shiloh, took a lunch break in Motley July 18, enroute to Detroit Lakes for a camping trip with family. Their Vistabule Teardrop Trailer came equipped with a kitchenette in back, and sleeping quarters in the front. The Rices said that they noticed some changes in town since they'd last driven through Motley, including a new business name by the seafood plant on Highway 10. They were also surprised to learn they hadn't stopped at a school parking lot to make their sandwiches. No, the school was closed a few years ago, they were told, and the building was recently sold to someone who plans to bring a classic car business to town. They'll have to stop by again next year on their way through Motley to check it out. (Staples World photo by Dawn Timbs)

Downtown revitalization in action

Members of the Staples Downtown Revitalization group were busy July 19, tending to three of the city's large planters along Highway 10.

After first getting rid of all of the weeds, the group filled the planters with potting soil, planted a variety of perennials, which were then covered with plastic garden sheeting and mulch. The plants will need to be watered on a regular basis.

Todd County Commissioners take care of July business

Karin L. Nauber
Todd County correspondent

The regular meeting of the Todd County Board of Commissioners was held July 5, 2023 due to the 4th of July holiday.

The board approved updates/changes to the Todd County Fairgrounds for the Todd County Ag Society for the fair.

The first change was to move two of the small buildings that are used for ticket booths for events.

Apparently when it rains, the water runs off the roof right onto patrons purchasing tickets. If moved it will change the way the water runs off and won't be such an issue.

They will also be adding a larger window to each of the small buildings which will help with ticket sales having more space. There are currently small windows in the two buildings. These will be replaced with larger sliding windows.

The two buildings were made by Eagle Creek Builders and were purchased with COVID funds in the event that the county would need them for vaccination clinics.

The board approved the move of the buildings at $75 by Eagle Creek Builders.

The board also approved the window replacement at $175 per window for two windows (one in each building).

The second update was to put more electrical outlets in the north end of the livestock building (where the horses are kept).

Currently, there are two outlets - one on each end of the building. This creates a safety concern with people running extension cords up above the pens.

The 18 additional outlets, would allow for easy access to electricity for those needing fans or other electrical devices during the fair and other events that take place at the fairgrounds.

The cost of this is $6,317.08 from ARC Electrical Service.

The Ag Society has $3,000 to put toward the update and requested the remaining be paid by the county. It was approved.

In other business:

- Approved a gambling permit for Ivy's Legacy Foundation to hold a raffle at The Shed in Kandota Township on October 13.
- Approved the resignation of Social Worker Maggie Chapin effective June 30.
- Approved the resignation of Eligibility Worker Mika Kunerth effective July 5.
- Due to a promotion, the behavioral health supervisor position is vacant. It was approved to promote Jacob Schwebke to fill this position with a start date of July 6.
- Approved the hiring of Emily Olson as a Solid Waste seasonal temporary worker starting July 6.

- Recognized several staff for their years of service to the county.

- Approved a budget request to transfer $8,318.50 from the Stationary and Forms account to the Equipment Purchase account within the elections department's 2023 budget to facilitate the Election Equipment updates/upgrades.

- Approved the electronic roster (Pollpad) upgrade on behalf of the county equipment needs and the participating Todd County municipalities and townships with KnowInk for a total of $34,125.

- Heard the 2023 report from Minnesota Counties Intergovernmental Trust (MCIT).

The county received a dividend of $74,156.

- Acting as Ditch Authority, the board approved a Hold Harmless Agreement (HHA) petition from Amthor Cattle to install three pivot crossings. The crossings will be 24" culverts with fabric under them and crushed concrete on top for the irrigator tires to travel on. This project will be done in Ward Township, Section 25 and will be done at Amthor Cattle's own expense. This is on County Ditch 19. They are at the end of the lateral so the crossings will not affect anyone downstream as there is no one beyond their property.

- At the February 21, 2023 board meeting, Todd County authorized retaining WSN to provide design, bidding and observation services for closure of demolition landfill (Cells 6-18).

WSN had furnished two proposals, one for $26,000 and one for $44,000. The lower cost proposal was inadvertently approved. The board approved the correct one for $44,000.

Solid Waste Supervisor Mike Eberle said that although it was uncertain, they expected bidding on the solid waste project in August.

- The Solid Waste Dept. has reviewed its roll-off service for collecting demolition waste from Todd County properties for disposal at our county owned demolition landfill with the solid waste committee and county board at a work session.

Based on recent discussions, solid waste recommends discontinuing this service effective January 1, 2024.

After discussion at the meeting, the board approved to discontinue service of collecting demolition debris with county owned roll-offs, hook trucks and staff effective January 1, 2024.

They also authorized them to sell up to two hook trucks and 20-30 roll-off containers.

The solid waste department will continue using hook trucks and roll-offs where appropriate, including transport of materials to end markets and abatement of non-compliant properties.

Commissioner Barb Becker asked for clarification on what would be sold.

Eberle said they would be keeping about a dozen of the roll-off containers for county use.

He said if the county no longer does this, it would provide opportunities for private businesses to do these projects and to purchase the equipment the county will sell.

Chair Randy Neumann asked if they would need a resolution instead of a board action.

It was uncertain, but the Home Care program had been discontinued with a board action. It was approved as a board action.

- Authorized the hiring of one social worker to provide Childrens' Mental Health-Targeted Case Management.

- Heard an update on the Home Care program discontinuation.

There were over 50 clients to start with and that is down to 40 that the county is working with to find comparable services. They are working with a company that is willing to work in Todd County to provide services.

Some clients are looking at assisted living options and some have decided they no longer need services.

- Background: Todd County has completed a conditions assessment and received construction documents for the rock wall. These were funded in part through a grant provided by the Minnesota Historical Society.

The next step is to begin Phase 1 of the restoration and repair of the rock wall. The estimated cost for Phase 1 is $1,011,150.

The Facilities Committee met and discussed the grant match and recommends utilizing $606,690 from county funds to assist in the Phase 1 project.

In order to apply for the grant, the governing body of the organization must authorize someone to conduct business and accept funds on behalf of the organization. Pre-applications for the grant are due July 21, 2023.

The board authorized Coordinator Chris Pelzer to conduct business and accept grant funds for Phase 1 of the rock wall project on behalf of the county.

- The commissioners held a closed session pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, section 13D.05 Subd 3(c) 3 to develop or consider offers or counteroffers for the purchase or sale of real or personal property.

The property for discussion is located at 120 2nd Ave. S and 121 2nd St. S in Long Prairie.

New Minnesota laws in 2023

Some of the new Minnesota laws that will go into effect on Aug. 1.

Cannabis rules

Effective Aug. 1, 2023, adults at least age 21 can possess or publicly transport 2 ounces of adult-use cannabis flower, and up to 8 grams of cannabis concentrates. Adults can also possess up to 2 pounds of adult-use cannabis flower in their home. Limits on edible cannabis product possession are 800 milligrams of THC, the active ingredient in cannabis. penalties are established for violating possession limits, making illegal cannabis sales, selling to a minor, and exceeding personal cultivation limits.

The law will also prohibit possession of opened cannabis products in a motor vehicle, similar to the existing “open bottle” law.

Criminal records of Minnesotans with petty misdemeanor and misdemeanor cannabis convictions will begin to be expunged. Although the records are not destroyed, they are removed from public view and will not appear in criminal background checks.

Lands bill becomes law

The Department of Natural Resources and counties received authorization to modify or exchange several land parcels around the state.

Sponsored by Rep. Rick Hansen (DFL-South St. Paul) and Sen. FOUNG Hawj (DFL-St. Paul), a new law modifies certain provisions applying to leases of tax-forfeited land, authorizes a land exchange between the National Guard and the City of Rosemount, and authorizes acquisition and divestment of public land, including the sale of parcels in Beltrami, Cass, Crow Wing, Fillmore, Goodhue, Hennepin, Itasca, Pine, St. Louis, and Sherburne counties.

Under the law, application fees may be waived by the Department of Natural Resources in some cases when issuing or releasing an easement. The legislation also clarifies that the DNR can lease land for recreational trails or facilities for a term of 30 years.

A county may lease tax-forfeited land for up to 25 years rather than 10 under previous law. The consideration amount for a lease is increased from $12,000 to $50,000. Counties may also lease tax-forfeited land for conservation easements.

Firearms background checks required

Effective Aug. 1, 2023, a law prohibits private transfers of pistols and semiautomatic military-style assault weapons without a firearms eligibility background check of the recipient.

Chief law enforcement officers must deny an application if, for example, there exists a substantial likelihood the proposed transferee is a danger to themselves or the public when in possession of a firearm.

The law will require a private party wanting to receive a pistol or semiautomatic military-style assault weapon from another private party to present a valid transferee permit or permit to carry and government-issued identification. An exception to the record of transfer process is created for unlicensed parties to transfer weapons through a firearms dealer.

Bike stops

Bicyclists won’t have to completely halt their progress at all stop signs beginning Aug. 1, 2023. Per the transportation finance and policy law, “a bicycle operator who approaches a stop sign must slow to a speed that allows for stopping before entering the intersection or the nearest crosswalk.

... If there is not a vehicle in the vicinity, the operator may make a turn or proceed through the intersection without stopping.”

Bird moms carry big burdens, bird dads are a mixed bag

This is a season full of life’s possibilities. Possibilities for wildlife, too. Most obvious and visible of these are the many new lives we’re seeing in the next generation of ducks, geese, grouse, songbirds, and many other wild creatures. These young lives are the product of Nature’s greatest urgency—to reproduce—next in importance only to obtaining food needed to stay alive, and avoiding becoming food for one of Nature’s many predators.

On a lake near where I live, I’ve been watching the steady maturing of a brood of young common merganser ducks. A brood of eleven has managed to reach the half-grown stage. This is not unique, but this large number is quite an accomplishment when you consider the many dangers young ducklings face from both under the water and above it. Many duck broods do not even begin life this large, let alone reach this state of maturity in this large number. To what extent this is due to good mothering, or to good luck, is hard to say. Perhaps both, because I’ve never seen this brood without seeing their mother close at hand, and always in a posture of alertness. As with most species of waterfowl, their father has been out of the picture since courtship, leaving the hen to carry out parenting duties on her own.

One of the behaviors I’ve found most interesting in this brood differs from many other duck species, and might puzzle someone whose contact with ducks has been mostly with the abundant mallards, wood ducks, or teal. Unless there is food on the water’s surface, those more common species “tip up” to feed, with their tail feathers in the air, and their neck extended underwater to probe for aquatic plants, crustaceans, or aquatic insects.

These merganser youngsters, however, repeatedly make splashy dashes across the shallow water’s surface, often ending in their partial submersion at the end of a rush. This is “minnowing,” the chasing of small fish just under the surface. For these ducks, fish will be a mainstay of their diet for the rest of their lives. For the first couple of weeks of life, a merganser hatchling is likely to feed on more readily catchable prey, like aquatic insects. But beyond that, Nature has outfitted them to be successful fishermen, giving them narrow bills that bear rows of teeth-like serrations, which are ideal for gripping active, slippery prey.

I’ve seen this same feeding behavior elsewhere, including on the rivers of Lake Superior’s North Shore, where I have fished for the migratory rainbow trout known as steelhead. At such times our own self-interest is apt to reveal itself. I recall wondering then whether the young mergansers were herding and capturing young trout, rather than minnows, which in my greediness I might have resented. In such circumstances we’d do well to remember that relationships among wildlife have evolved over millions of years, and our desires—whether for sport, consumption, or both—do not always have to come first.

Several days ago, a friend emailed to say that, while out blueberry picking, his dog had flushed a family group of ruffed grouse. Three of the gangling youngsters landed close enough to him to be photographed. This is not so surprising, when you remember that young creatures of many species—even game bird species, like ruffed grouse—are quite naïve when very young. Tim’s encounter reminded me of a similar encounter my wife and I had recently while biking, spotting a hen and five half-grown grouse chicks on the shoulder of the county road. Presumably the birds were there to pick gravel as grit for their crops, something necessary as part of the digestive process, at least for their more fibrous foods. Like the hen merganser

LCCMR agrees on $79 million for environment

The Legislative-Citizen Commission on Minnesota Resources (LCCMR) announced it has agreed to recommend funding for 101 projects totaling $79,644,000 to the Minnesota Legislature. The agreement is the result of a competitive, multi-stage process for recommending spending from the Minnesota Lottery-supported Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund (ENRTF).

LCCMR co-chairs, Rep. Rick Hansen, Sen. FOUNG Hawj, and Nancy Gibson, said in a statement, “This year’s recommendations continue the ENRTF’s long legacy of supporting science-based and innovative environmental and natural resource projects across the state. These recommendations will translate to tangible and long-lasting benefits for all Minnesotans and the waters, wildlife, prairies, forests, and parks that make Minnesota’s environment so special.”

The LCCMR’s 2024 ENRTF Request for Proposal (RFP) sought proposals that address several priority issue areas, including water resources, invasive species, renewable energy, natural resource management, habitat protection and restoration, outdoor recreation, and environmental education. The 101 projects recommended for funding seek to address both ongoing and emergent challenges across the state. Some highlights include recommended funds for:

- Modeling to better predict and manage cycles of flooding and drought throughout Minnesota.
- Fundamental research to more thoroughly document the life cycle of Minnesota’s elk population.
- Investigating the use of microbes and enzymes to break down PFAS (forever chemicals) in contaminated areas.
- Planning and developing a long-distance hiking trail through southeastern Minnesota’s Driftless Region.
- Improving and expanding Minnesota’s state parks, trails, and scientific and natural areas (SNAs).
- Continued research into fighting invasive species undertaken by the Minnesota Invasive Terrestrial Plants and Pests Center.
- Several outdoor and environmental education initiatives that serve a wide diversity of Minnesota’s youth.

The LCCMR received 218 proposals requesting a total of approximately $174 million. After evaluating the proposals and hearing presentations from proposers, the LCCMR voted to recommend full or partial funding to 101 proposals. These recommendations will be finalized by LCCMR in bill form later this winter and presented to the 2024 Legislature for consideration during the legislative session beginning February 12, 2024. Approved projects would begin work after funds become available on July 1, 2024. For more information, visit the 2024 Proposal and Funding Process page on the LCCMR website.

Trust fund

The Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund is a permanent dedicated fund in the Minnesota state treasury that was established by 77% voter approval of a constitutional amendment in 1988. The amendment directs forty percent of the net proceeds of the Minnesota State Lottery into the ENRTF until the year 2025. Since 1991, approximately $875 million from the ENRTF has been spent on over 1,800 projects that protect and enhance Minnesota’s environment and natural resources in every county of the state.

LCCMR

The Legislative-Citizen Commission on Minnesota Resources is made up of 5 state senators, 5 state representatives, and 7 citizen members. The function of the LCCMR is to make funding recommendations to the Minnesota State Legislature for special environment and natural resource projects, primarily from the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund. The LCCMR developed from a program initiated in 1963. Since then over $1 billion has been appropriated to over 2,300 projects recommended to protect and enhance Minnesota’s environment and natural resources.

Current LCCMR members are Rep. Patty Acomb, Rita Albrecht, Rep. Jeff Backer, Sen. Kari Dziedzic, William Faber, Nancy Gibson, Sen. Steve Green, Rep. Rick Hansen, Sen. FOUNG Hawj, Rep. Josh Heintzeman, Rep. Athena Hollins, Shona Langseth, Seth Moore, Sen. Kelly Morrison, Jeremy Pichel, Michael Reese, and Sen. Torrey Westrom.

Excess pandemic deaths in rural areas

By Al Cross
Institute for Rural Journalism and Community Issues

Scientists generally believe that the number of deaths attributed to the Covid-19 pandemic has been understated, and they point to what they call “excess deaths,” the number of deaths above the number that would have been expected if the pandemic hadn’t occurred, based on recent trends. A new study shows that excess deaths in the U.S. increased in the second year of the pandemic even though that is when Covid-19 vaccines became widely available, and that they went up largely because of increases in rural counties, where fewer people were vaccinated.

“In rural counties across the United States—where vaccines were harder to obtain, where vaccine skepticism remained higher, and where access to good health care is often more challenging—excess deaths in year two of the pandemic actually increased, despite the presence of vaccines,” Boston University says of the study, done mainly by BU faculty and published in Science Advances. “The study provides the first look at monthly estimates of what the researchers call “excess deaths” for every U.S. county in the pandemic’s first two years.”

Andrew Stokes, an assistant professor of global health at BU and corresponding author of the study, pointed to a shortage of rural vaccinations as the main cause. The study reports, “In urban areas, 75 percent of people aged five years and older were vaccinated as of January 2022 compared to only 59 percent of people aged 5 years and older in rural areas. This urban-rural difference in vaccination rates more than doubled since April 2021.”

Memories shared at concert

Several Motley area residents stopped by Music in the Park in Staples July 16, to cheer on 1975 Motley High School graduate Tamara (Kraft) Barnett, who sings as part of 'Tami and the Bachelor' with her husband, Phil Barnett. The duo, who reside in Northeast Minneapolis, sang a number of hits encompassing a variety of styles and spanning several decades.

In the top photo, Tamara met up with Cynthia (Swecker) Gold and her mother Gay Swecker from Leader. Tamara shared that "Gay Swecker was 4-H mom to us all." She also noted, "Cynthia was a year behind me in school. We were all in choir together at church." She went on to recall that, "The first time I played guitar in public was while singing with Cynthia and her sister Coleen. We sang, 'Run to Me,' by the Bee Gees."

Nicholas Hopp

The Time of Remembrance celebrating the life of Nicholas Hopp of rural Staples will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, July 28 at the Domian-Anderson Chapel in Bertha. Family and friends may gather at the Chapel for an open house on Friday from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m.

Nick, age 58, passed away unexpectedly of natural causes on July 18, 2023 at his home in rural Staples.

Nicholas “Nick” was born to Herbert and Karen (Hoemberg) Hopp on February 17, 1965 in Bertha. After completing high school at Staples he went to work as a rubber molder at Stern Manufacturing in Staples for 39 years. In hours away from work he enjoyed the outdoors while tending to the tasks of farming and deer hunting. It meant a lot to him to spend time with his family.

Memories of Nick will remain with his fiancé, Cindy Smith of Long Prairie; one son, Corey Hopp of Staples; one step-son, Christopher Lynch of Alexandria; one grandson, Connor Hopp of Sebeka; mother of his children, Kim Kortuem of Clarissa; six siblings: Marianne (Ralph) Boyer of Long Prairie, Beth (Larry) Denault of Hastings, John Hopp of Staples, Bruce (Tammy) Hopp of Hewitt, Michael Hopp of Bertha and Matthew (Autumn) Hopp of Wadena; along with many nieces, nephews and cousins.

Lorraine Mertens

Lorraine B. Mertens, 94, longtime resident of Hibbing died July 15, 2023, at New Perspective Senior Living in Cloquet. She had moved to Cloquet in assisted living to be closer to her family.

Funeral services were held July 21 at Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in Hibbing with the Rev. Fr. Daniel Weiske celebrating the Mass of Christian Burial. The Rev. Fr. Charles Flynn was con-celebrate.

Interment will be in Maple Hill Cemetery of Hibbing.

Lorraine was born May 27, 1929 to Henry and Alice (Haugen) Hall in Staples. She entered into the Sacrament of Marriage with Lloyd Mertens on December 29, 1949, in Staples. A homemaker by trade, Lorraine was very active in her church. She was a member of St. Leo’s Catholic Church in Hibbing and often volunteer at the church. She was a member of the Knights of Columbus Ladies Auxiliary. Lorraine enjoyed puzzles, sewing, oil painting and was known as the Chinese Checkers Master at her assisted living facility in Cloquet - no one could defeat her. Lorraine’s favorite pastime was decorating her doors and windows. Each and every holiday, you would find that theme littered throughout her space. She enjoyed it very much.

Lorraine is survived by five children, Diane (Art Gibbs) Peterson, Green Valley, AZ, Alice (Arnold) Workman, Kelly Lake, Debbie (Milan) Bigo, Ashland, WI, Douglas (Mary-Sue) Mertens, Eveleth and Christine (Timothy) O’Hara, Cloquet; two sisters, Norma Minor, Hibbing and Lois Mertens, Staples; nine grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

She is preceded in death by one son, Stanley Mertens; husband, Lloyd Mertens in 1999; parents; one granddaughter, Shana Pfeilstickler; three brothers, Leonard, Lloyd and Lawrence Hall and one sister, Lavina Hitzmann.

“Which Defines You? The Past or the Present?”

Pastor Barry Klein, Staples Church of Christ

Before I go any further, you need to know that I enjoy coming across a copy of “Reminiscence” or “Good Old Days” magazines. It is good to reflect upon the past. We are in a crisis of historical revisionism at best and not caring about the past at worse. Even when caring about the past, we need to be careful with nostalgia. We can make perceptions of the past something other than the way it really was.

Another thing before moving on: I do believe we are racist toward very dangerous directions in our culture and also in Christendom. yet, we need to be careful to thinking that only “now” do we have it worse than any other time beofre us. I remember once looking at a book dated 1900 that was decrying how bad things had become. Sodom and Gomorrah in Genesis 19 (1898 B.C.?) is another historical perspective maker.

But an equal mistake is to think that history has no importance and only now is what counts. Periods of history have self-appointed their “now-ness” to being the truly enlightened age, someone believing that they/we have arrived to be the historical age and culture of “coming into our own,” somehow believing that we are a perceived gift to all humanity and history.

Here’s the crux. Sugar-coating either the past or the present is dangerous, especially when that coating comes as a result of getting disconnected from the God of both the past, present and future.

So, historical moorings and stability must be centered in the Creator God. I am intrigued when Jesus says in Matthew 10:52 (NIV, 2011), “Therefore every teacher of the law who has become a disciple in the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house who brings out of his storeroom new treasures as well as old.” Jesus, as the Second Person of the Triune God, is the literal Master-craftsman of the past (old) and present (new). No one is more grounded in the past and present than Jesus is. Indeed, “Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever” (Hebrews 13:8).

First responders making a difference

In a video of Jake Wallin taken during police training, he stated “Throughout my entire life, I’ve always wanted to work in some sort of position that had purpose behind my job and police officer is always what kind of came to me. I don’t want to be sitting in an office wondering why I’m here every day. I want to be out, I want to be doing something that I can tell myself at the end of the day I made a difference somehow.”

Supporting local law enforcement

Standing with Jacob

“We Stand With Jacob” was the second place winner at the 2023 Pillager Fair Parade. There were 10 units representing Jacob Borgstrom, the local young man who tragically passed away June 15. Friends and family marched to show their support for Borgstrom, and there were also dozens of horses ridden, as well as tractors driven, as part of the march in memory of Jacob, who’d participated at the fair since he was a young child. Proud uncle

Gary Kort of Pillager drove his late nephew Jacob Borgstrom’s 1952 John Deere tractor in the Pillager Parade. Borgstrom, a Pillager native and 2022 Brainerd High School graduate, had purchased the tractor on his 13th birthday and had spent a lot of time working to restore it. He had it on display at the 2022 Pillager Fair, at which time he thanked his grandpa George Krushe (a retired mechanic) for offering valuable tips along the way. Kort said that he and Jacob did everything together, calling his nephew his “right hand man.” (Staples World photo by Dawn Timbs) dale, the same company that put up the original structure.

They also built a new stairway going heading from the campground to the river. Motzko said it is still a popular spot for tubers and kayakers to enter the river.

A few of the features in the campground were not damaged or had minimal damage. Motzko said they repaired the roof on the out-house bathrooms and on the smaller picnic shelter. The historical ox cart, a park diorama and the new bench dedicated to Duane Lund were not damaged.

There are still more projects to do. The trail to the Little Round Hill battle site is still blocked by several fallen trees. Malone said they plan to get that open next spring. The main campground area will get seeded with grass and they plan to add more picnic tables, said Malone.

The forested area will be replanted by hand, mostly with red pines but also some jack pines and Norway pines, said Malone. They are looking at adding a few camper friendly sites, possibly in the forested area, but that will have to wait until an archeological survey is completed.

Archeological survey
All of the grounds of Old Wadena are a historical site on the National Register of Historic Places. It is labeled the Old Wadena Historic District. The designation also complicates cleanup and replanting trees.

Because of the historical status, the county is not allowed to dig in the park unless it is cleared by the National Register. That is why they are planning to plant seedling trees by hand to start the regrowth of the campground grove and the pine forest.

The archeological survey will identify specific areas with historical value. Once those areas are identified, the county will be able to do more, such as plant larger trees, in areas that do not have the designation. But the survey may not be completed for several years, so Malone said they have to start by planting saplings.

Archeological digs in the past have revealed artifacts from Native American camps and voyageur trading posts. One of the digs was on the Little Round Hill battle site, which furthered the story of a battle there where Ojibway people and fur traders fought back an attack from Dakota warriors.

Previous rendezvous events utilized the shady grove for many of their stations and workshops. This year organizers said they are putting up extra tents for shade and some of the stations may be in different locations.

But the lineup will be as full as ever, with music, workshops, artisans and fur trader reenactors giving demonstrations of life at the old trading post.

Wadena county parks

Although the tornado wiped out a wide swath of animal habitat, Motzko said the site became an animal haven last summer, with a herd of deer walking through every day.

The rebuilding of Old Wadena got some help from insurance money for the pavilion. The rest is coming out of the county's park reserve fund and they did get some money from the timber sales.

There are nine other Wadena County Parks, all along the Crow Wing River. Motzko said he visits every one to make sure payments are being kept up. He said camping at Old Wadena is still down this summer but the rest of the parks have been very busy, some filling up before the weekend even starts.

Malone said while Old Wadena has gotten the most attention since the tornado, they have done some big projects at other parks, including an expansion at from the heart. They combine their own original songs with traditional folk pieces from America and the British Isles.

During the pandemic, these veteran performers found themselves 'home alone' with no work as their gigs were canceled. "We found time, for the first time in many years, to reflect back on life," Loretta said. "This translated into many new songs inspired by the pandemic, songs of clear vision, letting go, and realizing what is really important in our lives."

That time to reflect resulted in 'Lift the World,' an album of ten new songs released on late 2022. Lift the World's originals are combined with old folk songs like "Hand Me Down My Walkin' Cane" and "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder."

Additional performers at the Old Wadena weekend will see a combination of traditional acts and others new to Old Wadena.

Jake Kaehne, as he has for the past 10 to 15 years, begins each morning with his traditional Ojibwe flute music. Also on stage each day will be Paulino Brener with puppetry performances of "Battle of the Giants."

Also returning are Dave Vornala with his ballads and story songs and Caitlin Robertson, singer and song writer, accompanied by Alex Sandberg.

Three new acts will appear at Old Wadena this year. Boots and Needles will be on stage at noon Saturday. On Sunday, Leane Flynn is slated for an 11 a.m. slot, while Kelley Smith will close out the music at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon. Both are singer-songwriters combining original work with old folk standards.

The Old Wadena Rendezvous, which dates back to 1992, is nearing the 30 year mark. The production was an annual affair until 2020, when it was canceled due to the Covid pandemic. Resumed in 2021, it was canceled again last year after a Memorial weekend tornado tore through the Old Wadena campground, taking out virtually all of the majestic trees that had shaded the Rendezvous area for years.

A pavilion that had only been in use since 2019, was demolished and has been rebuilt by Wadena County. This year additional large tents have been secured for the weekend to provide much needed shade.

SWCD can help with drainage, ditch maintenance

In Minnesota, drainage is a practice regulated by the Wetland Conservation Act (WCA), which was passed in 1991 to protect and achieve no net loss in the quantity, quality, and biological diversity of Minnesota's existing wetlands. Within the WCA, drainage is defined as "any method for removing or diverting waters from wetlands. Methods include, but are not limited to, excavation of an open ditch, installation of subsurface drainage tile, filling, diking, or pumping". If you are seeking to maintain an existing drainage system or create a new system, here are the proper steps.

For drain tile, if you are currently enrolled in a federally administered program, you will need to contact your local Farm Service Agency office. An FSA AD-1026 form must be completed by the FSA in order to confirm compliance with USDA Farm Program requirements. A Certified Wetland Delineation will then be provided after review by USDA staff. When you receive the completed 1026 form, bring a copy to your Local Government Unit (LGU) who administers the WCA. In Todd County, the Todd County Soil and Water Conservation District (Todd SWCD) is the local LGU. When you submit the 1026 form, the Todd SWCD wetland coordinator will review and determine setbacks using USDA provided lateral effect tables. With the calculated setbacks, the wetland coordinator will create a map for perforated subsurface drain tile. Setbacks are required to be followed to ensure compliance with USDA, State, and US Army Corps of Engineer's regulations.

For ditch maintenance, public ditches regulated by the drainage authority need to be reviewed and approved by the county ditch inspector. Maintenance or repair of existing public draining systems conducted by the public drainage authority can be maintained to their original dimension as long as the maintenance or repair does not drain type three, four, or five wetlands that have existed for more than 25 years. The county ditch inspector will also work with the local LGU for following the WCA exemptions. For private ditches, landowners can work directly with the LGU. The wetland coordinator will conduct a site visit verifying current site conditions. All impacts resulting from maintenance or repair to existing drainage systems cannot drain wetlands that have existed for more than 25 years. To be eligible for cleaning private ditches, the landowner must provide documentation that the ditches were maintained in the last 25 years. Aerial photos or maintenance records can be used to determine if ditches were maintained. Whether it's a public or private ditch, no enhancements to the ditch by increasing size or depth are allowed.

For more information regarding drainage or wetlands, contact the Todd County SWCD office at 320-732-2644.
